

ATLANTA, GA / CHRISTIANA PRESS, LLC
Available for Interview . . .

CONTACT KRIS
770.621.5044

Should Your 7, 10, or 12 Year Old have a Resume?

- 5 Benefits for a Child having a Resume
- 10 Great uses for a Child's Resume
- 2 Things NOT to put on a Child's Resume

Author of Resumes for Children – 17 Years Old and Under Tells Your Audience

Book Description

About Kris

- At least 5 things a resume does for a child.
- Categories to consider when developing a child's resume.
- What NOT to put on a child's resume.
- How to stop people from mispronouncing your child's name, help them get it right by doing this simple thing.
- What you won't see on a child's resume, but if it were on there it would be impressive.
- FREE and budget friendly activities to develop a child a strong resume.
- 10 great uses for a child's resume.
- Children's wonderful resume success stories.

Resumes for Children – 17 Years Old and Under is a collection of resumes of 21 very resourceful fictitious children who developed their skills, abilities, and talents to obtain licenses, certifications and more! In this book you'll meet a student pilot, a child book reviewer, a child journalist and more! There are sample cover letters that are guides for seeking sponsorship from friends and family to fund a child's activities. There is a list of sample references that may be used as a guide. Use the workbook pages in the back of the book to jump start a child's resume; write down ideas and resources, and reflect on what a child has already accomplished or would like to accomplish.

Kris is a native New Yorker, and a product of the New York City School system, but completed her college years in Georgia by earning her bachelor's degree in Industrial Engineering Technology from Southern Polytechnic State University. Outside of that Kris enjoys writing and is a member of the Society of Children's Book Writers & Illustrators; she's a free lance writer for Oatmeal Studios, a leading humorous greeting card manufacturer in Vermont. Kris is sought after for literary events, youth, parenting, and education expos, youth foundations, and PTSAs. Kris' book reviews and features have appeared in Foreword Magazine online, Rolling Out Magazine (Atlanta), The Bay Town Sun (TX), and The Christian Library Journal, to name a few.

Kris' book is being used in the GA Dept. of Labor career centers!

Her book is also in the hands of teachers and students at Atlanta, GA high schools and middle schools!

Author:	Donna Kristine "Kris" Manley
Publisher:	Christiana Press, LLC, P.O. Box 81428, Conyers, GA 30013
ISBN 10:	0-9777835-0-2
ISBN 13:	978-0-9777835-0-2
Book Size:	8 1/2 X 11
Price:	$14.99
E-mail:	kris@resumesforchildren.com
Online Presence:	www.resumesforchildren.com